BRITISH CHAMPION TO BOX IN GARDEN

Ernie Rice, Holder of English Lightweight Title, to Oppose Sailor Friedman.

Heenan Deserved World's Championship, but Unfair Tactics Deprived Him.

By CHARLES F. MATHISON.

So long a time has elapsed since an So long a time has elapsed since an English boxer of real ability has visited America, that the patrons of the roped square here can be pardoned for doubting that such an athlete exists. Freddie Welsh and Jimmy Wilde have been the only classy boxers who have appeared here in years, and so many mediocre British boxers have been seen in clubs here in the interim that local enthusiasts have come to believe that scientific boxing is a lots art in Merrie England. ng is a lots art in Merrie England.

However, a new candidate for American approval has appeared here in the person of Ernie Rice, lightweight champion of Great Britain, who will appear at Madison Square Garden next Friday night in a bout with Salior Friedman.

It is declared by Englishmen who have seen Rice in action in his own country that he is one of the best lightweights developed in England since the days of Welsh, and that he ranks with Jim Driscoll and Wilde. This will be verified or refuted when he gets into the ring before the most critical specators in America. Rice has had one bout in this country.

Pheasants Reported in Abundance in New York Natic and on Long Island.

Reports received by the Conservation Compiles in Front game protectors all over the State promise a larger take of pheasants this year than during any previous season since the State undertook the propagation of these eplendid same birds.

In 1919 34,000 pheasants were taken: In 1919 the take was practically double that number, and while the exact figures for last year are not available, an estimate based upon the report of game protectors indicates that the bag for the entire State was considerably in excess of 100,000.

Under the present law only the male pheasants may be killed, and those only during the last two Thursdays in October and the first two Staturdays in November, and only three pheasants may be taken in a season, except on Long Island, where the acason is from November 1 to Docember 31, and where a person may take not to exceed four male
